

Are Facebook Friends real Friends?

The most people ~~on the world~~ who ~~have~~ are on Facebook ~~they~~ think that all the friends they have ~~in~~ on Facebook they also have in the real ~~live~~ life but there are also people who think that the friends ~~in~~ on Facebook are not real friends. ~~Witch~~ Which Kind of People is Right?

The ~~differe~~ difference between real friends and Facebook friends is that you can meet real friends and if you want you will ~~can~~ go ~~with them~~ outside with them or you can invite them to a party.

Another ~~differe~~ difference is that the people in the real world can help you if you are sad and they feel with you. You only can write your Facebook friends a message and if they write back they ~~maybe~~ might say that they feel with you but they also may play a ~~can~~ computer game at the ~~time~~.

The number of people on Facebook that I would consider ~~as~~ friends is ~~underneath~~ not more than 10. I think that the number of friends is not very important. If you have 400 friends ~~than~~ then you do not know ~~there~~ their names and you will not write all to all of them. If you only have 5 friends on Facebook ~~than~~ then you can write ~~with~~ them every day and you can talk with them every day.

I think that you can have friends online but you should know that the friends in ~~the~~ real live life are more important ~~then~~ than the friends online.

Be careful with spelling :

- then - than (2 different meanings)
- life - live
